- You have taught us one of life's most important lessons - with a strong voice and a continued effort one can make their personal mark yet remain in perfect harmony with universe. We will not forget you.

- You have taught us to have patience and foresight; to be encouraged in spite of the small daily defeats; to visualize a crystal path to self awareness and self esteem; and to find joy in personal growth.

- You are much loved and adored as a sensitive, giving and thoughtful educator. Our young have gained much from knowing you and experiencing your dynamic personality.

- Your efforts have paid off well as one can readily see from the changes exemplified by each and every student under your guidance. We appreciate your continuing efforts and salute your past performance.

- You took our standard parameters and stretched them, exploring new avenues, new possibilities, beyond our horizon.

- Thank you for all you have done for us and for teaching us to think and plan in a three dimensional context. We could not have achieved such great success without these newly learned tools.

- Your unselfish commitment to the children of our community has been a blessing to us all. We looked towards you for strong leadership and you have not failed us.

- The children have thrived under your direction. Many warm thanks for your strong and steady contribution to the continued enlightenment of our next generation.

- Looking at the class of 20____, one can readily see the richest fruit of your hard labor. You have taught our children so much and given without restraints. Thank you for molding our citizens so well.

- It wasn't the flash, but the subtlety of your ways that taught us so much about true kindness. Your positive and bright influence on our young will not easily be forgotten, nor replaced.

George Santayana

“Those who cannot remember the past are condemned to relive it”

- The hand that rocks the cradle rules the world. You have been a guiding force encouraging our young to raise their standards towards greater life achievements.
- A strong bond has formed amongst our youth - a harmony inspired by your leadership. We honor your contribution and pay tribute to your visionary spirit.
- Fortunes are never gained overnight. Fortunate are the few infused with insightful energy and the will and ability to impart this “special sauce” amongst the young.
- You have energized and encouraged the next generation. You are to be rightly proud of your many accomplishments, for you have made our world a better place in which to live. Many thanks for it all.
- You taught us that to be willing to know our own shortcomings and still like ourselves is what keeps us happy. This lesson has made us stronger and more self content.
- The revelation of self knowledge can be your mental note in ink. You taught us to know ourselves well and for this valuable lesson we are most appreciative.
- Your masterful teaching skills have uplifted this generation and given us great faith in the future.
- How delighted we are to have worked with you. Your dedicated assistance in the teaching of our young people has broadened, highlighted and enhanced our educational program immensely.
- Rare is the individual who can channel his knowledge into the minds of the young, while teaching them too that learning can be fun. Your classes were unique in this very respect and you have left your indelible mark on the next generation. Knowing you has been an enlightening and spiritually uplifting experience.
- Tackling the difficult, mastering the seemingly impossible, building strong character, a commitment to one’s community - these are but a few of the essential building blocks you have imparted to our youth. It has been a great pleasure to know you.

- We searched for quite some time to fill the void in our faculty. The place you filled you filled with ceaseless accomplishments, undertaking projects which we never could have seen to fruition without your guidance. We hope and pray that you will remain a strong and healthy force in our lives.
- We turned to you for guidance and care. You nurtured us and gave us freedom. For this gift we are deeply thankful.
- With you as our group leader we had a positive force to guide and teach our young. What better way to build character and poise than to assimilate good qualities from a good example. Thank you for being our steady anchor and for making our dreams come true.
